Researching?

Try searching for your ancestor who fought in the Civil War through the National Park Service's Soldiers and Sallors System. Go to https://www.nps.gov/civilwar/soldiers-andsallors-database.htm

Shiloh Monument Location System

If your ancestor fought at Shiloh, visit our website at www.nps.gov/shil. A link to the Monument Location System is located on our home page. It includes photographs and text for monuments and position tablets as well as the names of those known burials in the Shiloh National Cemetery.

While at the park, remember to visit the bookstore. We recommend the Trailhead Graphics Map which shows all of the park's monumentation. By using it, you can walk, hike, or drive to where your ancestor fought.

This pamphlet is free for visitors to the Shiloh National Military Park. It features a prominent Jasper war hero Lt. John H. Bankhead who is listed as a Captain in the 16th Ala. Inf. on the Alabama Archives website.

Home of Lt. Col. John Washington Inzer.

Greek revival antebellum home built by Moses Dean in 1852, acquired by John W. Inzer in 1866. John Washington Inzer born January 9th,1834, Gwinnett County, Georgia.

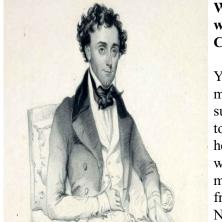

Home occupied by Inzer family from 1866 to 1987. In July 1987 home and its contents, including extensive law library, deeded by family heirs to St. Clair camp 308, Sons of Confederate Veterans, to become museum in honor of Lt. Col. & Judge John W. Inzer. Museum is maintained for educational purposes and public awareness. Museum incorporated December 1988 as a non-profit corporation.

The family left Georgia in 1853, moving to St. Clair County, Ala. In 1854 John Inzer began his study of law. In 1859 Inzer was licensed to practice law before the Alabama Supreme Court, appointed Probate Judge, St. Clair County, that year. In 1861, elected to represent St. Clair Co. as Alabama's youngest Secession Convention delegate.

In 1862, he joined Confederate Army as a private, rose to rank of Lt. Col. In the 58th Alabama Infantry Regiment. Inzer fought in battles of Corinth, Shiloh, Chichamauga, and Missionary Ridge where he was captured and made POW at Johnson's Island, Ohio, 1863 to 1865. After Chickamauga, Col. Bushrod Jones wrote of Lt. Col. Inzer's conspicuous bravery, his causing his men to charge with enthusiasm, and of his gallantry on the battle's second day, which exceeded that of the first. There was not a more gallant and courageous officer in the Confederate Army.

Appointed Probate Judge by occupying Union forces, July 1865; elected to that office, 1866. Elected to State Senate, 1874 and 1890. In 1877, appointed as Trustee of Howard College, later Samford University. From 1878 to 1900 was Trustee of the Alabama Insane Hospital. Appointed Judge of the 16th Judicial Circuit 1807.

John Washington Inzer died January 2nd, 1928, age 93, last surviving member of the Alabama Secession Convention. He was known as 'Alabama's Grand Old Man." He is buried in the Ashville Cemetery.

Who was Jim Crow?

You might be surprised to learn he was a white man from the North.

"Jim Crow" was the stage name of Thomas Dartmouth Rice of New York, above, who gave minstrel performances in black face. Rice lived from 1808 to 1860. Rice gave successful tours across the U.S. and in England of the act called "Jumping Jim Crow,"
